EXPLANATION—As moderator Bill Cousins and school board members look on, SAD #44 Supt. Dewaine Craig attempts to clarify the options for voters at Thursday's school budget reconsideration meeting. Nearly 400 voters turned out for the meeting, and they used the opportunity to return the local tax and total budget figures to the levels originally recommended by the school board. SAD #44 voters ax $80,000; OK spending state's $53,000

By MICHAEL DANIELS

At the SAD #44 budget reconsideration meeting Thursday, district voters restored the 1990-91 school budget originally proposed by the district board of directors.

Thursday's meeting resulted from dissatisfaction with the actions taken at an earlier meeting, on May 3, at which time those voters present (162) added an additional $80,000 to the local tax increase of $572,084 (24 percent) already sought by the school board.

On Thursday, nearly 400 voters turned out, and they used the opportunity to restore the original budget figures. They resisted, however, a move to cut the tax bill still further by applying $53,000 in newly approved state funds to the local assessment.

They recommended instead that the school board use this money to restore some of the programs (especially elementary music and art) that would have been funded by the $80,000. (The board did. See related story.)

Thursday's meeting lasted less than two hours.

Debate was brief. Proponents of the additional $80,000 in taxes argued that the programs it would support were necessary for the development of district children.

Marie Hickey of Woodstock said the music and art programs would "give kids the extra motivational forces they need."

Gwyneth Bohr of Bethel said the programs were "necessary to creative expression."

Opponents countered that local taxpayers supported education but did not have unlimited resources.

"These people are not here because they don't want kids to be taught," said Harry Faulkner of Bethel. "They're here because they can't pay any more."

Others, including Faulkner and school-board candidate Rebecca Lawrence, objected to the fact that teacher and administrative salaries were already locked in, and beyond the reach of the voters.

But the debate was largely cursory, and the pros and cons seemed to sway few in the polarized audience.

In the key vote of the evening—the article to open the tax and budget figures to reconsideration—opponents of the $80,000 add-on prevailed, but by the narrow margin of 201-176.

Following that, voters overwhelmingly (295-67) approved the board's original tax recommendation, adding to the article a recommendation that the board spend the $53,000 in new state money on Outward Bound and music and art programs.

Discussion on the final article, which dealt with the total budget figure, bogged down in parliamentary confusion.

Amendments, counter amendments and amendment withdrawals sounded on the floor, to numerous calls of "point of order."

Bob Chadbourne of Bethel led an effort to apply the $53,000 in state money to reducing the local tax bill, but the effort fell short, and when matters were sorted out the school board's original budget figure was overwhelmingly approved.

Thursday's meeting was free from much of the divisiveness and rumor that marred the 1988 budget meeting. And when it was over, most people appeared satisfied with the outcome.

Selectmen Pat Doon of Bethel and Marie Bartlett of Greenwood, who led the petition drive for the reconsideration meeting, both said they were pleased with the result.

"And I was delighted with the turnout and the support of the people," Bartlett said.

School officials, who had feared that voters might retaliate for the $80,000 add-on by cutting the budget even further, were clearly relieved.

School Board Chairman Margaret Hand prefaced business at the subsequent board meeting by saying: "I make a motion we all breathe easier and then go on."

Bethel voters have choice of candidates

By CHRISTY CROSS

Voters in Bethel will go to the polls Tuesday, June 12 to elect two candidates to the Bethel Board of Selectmen and two directors to the SAD #44 Board of Directors.

At the fire house, polls will open at 10 a.m. on Tuesday and will close at 8 p.m. Five candidates are vying for the two seats, for three years, on the selectmen's board. Selectman Pat Doon is not seeking re-election.

Three candidates are vying for the two seats on the school board of directors. Director Stan Howe is not seeking re-election.

The candidates for selectman are:

Henry J. Dombkowski

Henry J. Dombkowski is first on the town ballot.

Dombkowski, 62, lives on Vernon Street in Bethel with his wife Theina. The couple has four children, all grown and married.

Dombkowski is retired from his job as mill supervisor at P.H. Chadbourne & Co. where he worked for 22 years.

Also, he served on the school committee in Mexico for a short time before moving to Bethel, he said, and he retired as a Major from the National Guard Army Corp of Engineers.

Dombkowski says the sewer issue in Bethel "should have been addressed years ago. It's been with us for 25 years and the town didn't want to face up to the responsibility. Not so much the selectmen," he said, "but the townspeople."

They could have authorized spending the money."

He said he also believes Bethel residents outside the area served by the sewer should be able to dump their sewage at the sewer plant.

Dombkowski said he sees town expansion as one of the more important issues facing the town. "And again, that's all tied up with the sewer," he said.

"The town is going to expand. The townspeople have to decide how they want it to grow," he said. Bethel needs to provide jobs for its children as they grow up.

Dombkowski said he would like to see a joint effort between the town and the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce to attract business. "But again, the people themselves have to decide what industry they will accept."

Dombkowski said he is running for the selectmen's seat because now he has time to put into it. "In the past, working and raising four children and sending them through college took lots of time."

Also, he said, "I would like to see Bethel have some recreational facilities that belong to the town and that don't belong to SAD #44 or to Gould."

Harry J. Faulkner, Jr., 47, lives on Paradise with his wife Lally. "Between us, we have five children, three boys and two girls, all grown," Faulkner says.

He has lived in the area three years and in Bethel two years. He is self-employed, the owner of the Backstage Restaurant in Bethel. He lived for one year in Bryant Pond, where he served on the planning board, before moving to Bethel.

Faulkner said his experience as a businessman, both at the Backstage and previously, when he owned a Canteen truck, will help him as a selectman.

Opinions

Explanation of policy for articles submitted to the Bethel Citizen

This is not an editorial. It is an explanation of policy. Each week the Citizen gets dozens of announcements, press releases, community events articles and articles of school, club, municipal, state and business news, as well as birth, death, marriage and engagement announcements.

We welcome and appreciate the inflow of information and we look at each article. Some, like an announcement for a grand opening of a new (brand name) furniture store in Iowa, we shoot straight to the circular file. Others, like the press releases we have been receiving on the upcoming rodeo in Farmington this summer, we think about: Is this unusual enough, interesting enough to enough of our readers to run in the paper? These we have filed in a folder for possible use.

Articles of clearly local interest, meaning those articles about people and events within our coverage area, we put in a folder to be typeset for publication. Once typeset, we hang them on the board along with our staff written articles, for pasteup on Tuesdays.

Meanwhile, each week the size of the newspaper is determined by the amount of advertising. Thus, late Monday afternoon we tally the advertising inches. As a general rule, a newspaper needs around 50 percent advertising to pay its bills. Generally, the Citizen runs 14-16 pages.

Within those pages, what we have recently begun to do—for reader convenience—is to lay out the news in a package format. For example, pages one, three and 16 are general news pages, as much as possible staff written. Page two is the editorial and letters—opinions—page. Pages four and five we reserve for news related to schools and sports, or activities. Pages six and seven, or eight and nine, feature our TV listings and dining and entertainment items, with the following three or four pages being given, primarily, to our various town correspondents.

And within that layout we try to position as many related articles and announcements brought in by our readers as we can fit.

After the advertisements are pasted up, the "news hole" of the paper must be pasted up in four to five hours. The crunch comes in the last couple of hours. The process is like trying to piece together a big jigsaw puzzle, with more pieces than will fit. Sometimes the choice of what to run comes down to having a four-inch space on a page and two articles that are eight inches long, one two inches long and one four inches long. Which one do you suppose gets pasted onto the page?

Or sometimes it comes down to a three-inch hole and a five inch long article. What happens then is the editor has to do some down and dirty cutting. Not fun, but always done with as much consideration as possible for keeping the most important information in the article.

Some of the questions we ask ourselves as we decide what runs and what stays hanging on the board are: How important is this article to how many of our readers? Is the article about a public or a private organization, a not-for-profit group or a private business? Is the material dated or could we save it for the following week?

There's no science to it. It's a judgment call and sometimes our judgment is wrong; on occasion, something gets overlooked. We hate it when that happens—and we keep trying to do better.

As readers, you can help us by letting us know what you like seeing in the paper, what you think is a waste of space, what you think we've missed. The more we know about what you want, the better we can serve you.

And as people with articles you want run in the paper, remember: Get them in early; make them as brief as possible while including all the basic information—the who/what, when, where and why; and if it is essential to your organization that the information runs complete and on the day you want it run, consider buying an advertisement. Otherwise, there are no guarantees.

Federal mortgage program discriminates

Discrimination. In this day and age it seems unlikely that the Federal Government, in its wisdom, would be practicing this act, but it is.

A section of our population—82 years and older—is the object of this malfeasance. I'm referring to the Home Equity Conversion Mortgage Program. This program commonly called "reverse mortgages" is ideal for older Americans that are "property-rich" while "cash poor".

It is an ideal method of combating this situation and for over a year I have been waiting for this program to be developed, since AARP first mentioned it.

I'm one of those trying to "exist" on Social Security and a small pension. It is impossible for me to achieve this so I applied to the Maine State Housing Authority (Elizabeth Mitchell, Director) for an application that I completed and returned—only to be informed that mobile homes and multi-family dwellings do not qualify for this program per Federal instructions. I was therefore refused because I own a mobile home (1968 vintage).

This in my opinion represents discrimination of a whole section of real estate and the owners.

At present my attorneys are investigating the option of a "class action suit" and/or legislative action to effect a change in their existing law. I sincerely hope by bringing this discrimination to your attention you will help those of us 62 years and older, that own a mobile home, from this atrocious situation.

At present I'm waging this campaign alone and need any assistance I can muster. As a World War II and Korean War veteran it seems ironic that I am writing this on Memorial Day 1990 having reached this poverty level. Being disabled and unable to work adds to this dilemma.

If you who are now reading this wish to assist others and myself to overcome this situation I would welcome and appreciate any help—in any form—stamps, advice, donations, etc.

Fellow members of AARP please write your Senators, Congressmen and other elected officials you deem necessary and lean on them to change this discriminatory act. Just think what we could accomplish if all chapters of the AARP respond across the entire United States in one effort to outlaw this discrimination.

My attorney is contemplating the path to follow—litigate or legislate—I say both.

I would appreciate hearing from you. Copies of the preceding are available, contact William F. Wood, HCR Box 670, Upton, Maine, 04261.

Letters to the editor

DO VOTE TUESDAY

To the Editor:

Our municipal and primary elections are scheduled for Tuesday, June 12. If history is an indication, less than 50 percent of the registered voters will participate.

Voting is the foundation on which our democratic government is built. As voters we elect officials who will serve us in many ways and who will determine the services they feel are necessary for our community.

When you as a citizen of the community and a voter make a decision on who to vote for, you should have some definite expectations on how that person will perform if elected. Since the qualifications for most offices are not explicitly given, you as a voter are going to have to rely on personal knowledge of the candidate or on his or her listed qualifications for the position. It becomes your responsibility as a voter therefore to learn as much as you can about the candidates.

Many problems and issues now unknown will develop during their term of office. The decisions which will be made by them will be determined in three ways. One of these will be from the input of the citizens of the town in public meetings and hearings. Experience has shown that few people participate in these events. The second way decisions will be made will be based on telephone calls or letters to the editor in the local paper. Many times these are from people with special interests. Lastly, we the voters, will have to rely on the experience and education of the official.

Most officials are conscientious and want to serve to the best of their ability. They want to make decisions which will be in the best interests of their community. They also want to be responsible to the public they serve.

The individual whom you elect will have the greatest influence on your community and your life.

You are urged to obtain as much information on the candidates as you can and then vote for that person. It is the only way you can have good and effective government for your community.

From the Bethel Area

Chamber of Commerce

The Long Range Planning Committee held a day long session on Tuesday, June 5. Chamber representatives from the Maine Chamber, Oxford Hills, Camden and the Sugarloaf area attended, as well as town government representatives from area towns. Many thanks to the Sudbury Inn and the Holiday House for the use of their facilities.

A retail meeting was held on Wednesday, June 6 at the Casco Bank with representatives from the Bethel Citizen, The James Group Papers and WTBM Radio, Mexico to discuss cooperative advertising.

Participation has been really great on the first Bethel Area Coupon Booklet which will be on sale at the beginning of July for $10 each. Nearly 100 coupon offerings from Chamber businesses will be included.

The Retail and Dining Guides will be distributed following their printing in mid-June or so, in time for the summer tourist season and NTL.

The Board of Directors will be having a retreat at the Bethel Inn's Lake House on Monday, June 11 and they will be meeting for the regular monthly meeting on Thursday, June 14.

Tom McGinniss, board member, is well underway in planning the First Annual Bethel Art Fair Sale which will be held on the Common on Saturday, June 30 with a rain date of Saturday, July 7. More details will follow.

Deadlines

The deadline for most news items, including town items, meeting notices, write-ups of meetings, photos, etc., is Saturday noon.

The deadline for letters-to-the-editor, obituaries, and listings for the back-page calendar, is Monday at 5 p.m.

As for advertising, the deadline is Monday noon, except it is Monday at 5 p.m. for classifieds, such as For Sale and Help Wanted, as well as Cards of Thanks.

GOOD DEED—Eva Schools of Bethel presents Marcel Polak of the Mahosuc Land Trust with the deed for a seven-acre canoe landing site on the Androscoggin River in Northwest Bethel. Steve Wight, left, and Ken Bohr of the Friends of the Androscoggin attended the presentation. Friends of the Androscoggin will manage the site, which includes approximately 1000 feet of frontage on the river. The site is dedicated to the late George Schools.

Rotary Club notes

The Bethel Rotary Club met for its regular club meeting on Tuesday, May 29.

David Murphy gave Rotary information quoting Margaret Alesh "A small group of people can make a large impact on the world" referring to our Rotary club and the good it does in our area.

Nancy Harrison, marketing office manager for Ski Mt. Abram, and Mark Wigley, head of housekeeping services for Sunday River Ski Resort were inducted as new members of our club. Program chairperson Robin Zischel introduced her guest speaker, Leon Favreau, co-owner of Bethel Furniture Stock and President of the Multiple Use Association.

His topic was the proposed Greenline Park which encompasses our area as well as other northern forestlands from the Adirondacks to the Maine/Canadian border.

Anyone wanting more information on this topic should contact Favreau at Bethel Furniture Stock.

Bethel Planning Board sets meeting for June 14

The Bethel Planning Board has changed its planned meeting date from June 13 to June 14 because town meeting is scheduled for June 13.

The rescheduled, planning board meeting will be held in the selectmen's meeting room at the Town Office at 7 p.m.

Agenda items include a request for an advisory opinion for the Bread and Butter Bake Shop. The board will also review site plan applications for the Bethel Area Health Center and Bethel Park Apartments.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

The 11th annual Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show was held on Saturday, May 26 in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House.

Many entries were received from SAD #44 grades 1-6 relating to this year's theme "Everyday Life in the Past."

The show is held each year as a memorial to the late Faye S. Taylor (1908-1972), who was a founder of the Bethel Historical Society and an artist very much interested in children's art.

Entries are divided into three categories and judged by a group of local artists. This year's judges were Judy Richardson of Andover, Romeo and Jo Baker of Newry and Sue Taylor, also of Newry.

Winners were selected as follows:

Division I (Grades 1 and 2), First Prize, Benjamin Vonderheide, Grade 1, Ethel Bisbee School; Second Prize, Emily Gilbert, Grade 1, Ethel Bisbee School; Third Prize, Jason York, Grade 2, Ethel Bisbee School;

Division II (Grades 3 and 4), First Prize, Kate Nickerson, Grade 4, Crescent Park School; Second Prize, Monica Smith, 4th grade, Andover Elementary School; Third Prize, Philip Bailey, Grade 3, Andover Elementary;

Division III (Grades 5 and 6), First Prize, Megan Meisner, Grade 5, Andover Elementary School; Second Prize, Amy Lynn Hale, Grade 5, Crescent Park School; Third Prize, Roger Buck, Grade 5, Crescent Park School.

Prizes included cash, a ribbon and a certificate of achievement. The show is sponsored in part each year by a grant from the Bethel Savings Bank, where Mrs. Taylor was employed for many years, and is organized by the Society's Art Committee chaired by Kathleen Bennett.

On Sunday, May 27, the Society's Museum Committee held its annual open house honoring Dr. Moses Mason's 201st birthday.

As usual, the period house museum was open with Ernest and Betty Perkins representing Dr. Moses Mason. Birthday cake and strawberry punch were served and tours were offered to the many visitors from many locations who attended.

Craft demonstrators were at work throughout the house: Grace McKivergan, spinning; Sue Burnham, spinning; Joanne Korhonen, knitting; and Lorrie Hoeh, rug braiding.

Helen Morton also was at work painting with water colors. Hostesses included Persis Post and Judy Haskell.

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the next monthly meeting will be held on Thursday, June 7 in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The program will focus on the history of mining in the Bethel area with a panel discussion as well as a film included. Anyone wishing to attend is cordially invited.

Andover selectmen hear plans for community television station

By BARBARA ADAMS

Kevin Saisi of Rumford appeared before the Andover selectmen on Tuesday night to notify them of preliminary plans for a community television station on cable TV which will tentatively be called Greater Rumford Community Television. The target date for startup is six months to a year from now.

Saisi explained he and Don Roche, Joe Sassi and Ron L'Auberge are organizing a non-profit corporation whose board of directors will hopefully include one representative to be appointed by each of the following towns: Peru, Dixfield, Rumford, Mexico, Roxbury, Andover, and Hanover. Mountain Valley High students will be asked to participate in the station and Dixfield High students are also welcome.

Programs produced by individual towns will be eligible to go on the system, such as sports, town events, Sunday River ski events, meetings and other community programs. The channel will be a cooperative effort by all towns financed by a percent of the franchised cable fee as allowed by law.

"Everyone would have a voice," Saisi said.

Saisi's meeting with the selectmen was informational, with more concrete plans to be announced later.

Blue Rock will start repairs on previously paved Andover roads, with $30,000 to be paid Blue Rock (of the $67,000 owed) once they start. They will use hot patching for the holes, followed by hot topping.

Fred Emerson, chairman of the selectmen, will accompany the Blue Rock crew to verify the areas in need of repairs.

In other business, the selectmen and Ed Witt and Dave Grieg of the planning board held interviews for the code enforcement officer position.

A water line was broken on the road beside the cemetery in the process of Contel running underground telephone lines. Contel is contacting a sub contractor to repair it.

There has been a request from a resident concerned about a swimming pool which is not fenced in, and the selectmen will review state regulations.

Town Clerk Kathy Williamson expressed her desire for a special town meeting and voiced other residents' desire for one. The selectmen took it under advisement.

The bids for the purchase of the town fire truck will close June 16 at noon, and the funds realized be put in the fire department new equipment account.

Road Commissioner Wilbur Chenery told the selectmen of the poor condition of the picnic tables at the baseball field. They will be removed and the picnic tables on the common will be painted. A town administrative Assistant Rebecca Schachter will look into cost of tree trimming on the common.

Residents of the Crockett Bridge area who requested the installation of two street lights will be notified to present a petition to the selectmen in this regard. The next selectmen's meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, June 6 at 6 p.m. instead of Tuesday evening.

Bethel police report

On Friday, June 1 at 12:47 p.m. police received a report that a car had rolled out of the parking lot of a Main Street business, rolled across the street and into a utility pole. The car's owner reportedly then came out of the business, found the car across the street, got into it and, in leaving, collided with a car parked nearby. Damage reported was less than $500 in each accident.

At 7:10 a.m. a Newry resident requested extra patrol around a gravel pit he owns on Rt. 2 in West Bethel.

On Thursday, May 31 at 12:45 p.m. a Main Street resident reported a break-in at a house she owns on Rt. 2. She reported nothing was taken but that a window had been removed, a light had been left on and she found cigarette butts on the floor.

On Wednesday, May 30 at 3:45 p.m. a Bryant Pond resident reported the theft of the front license plate from her car, possibly while the car was parked in Bethel.

At 1:35 p.m. a Gore Road resident requested a permit to take a registered but uninspected car to an inspection station.

At 12:06 p.m. police received a report of a large black dog running at large in the Railroad Street area. On Sunday, May 27 at 10:48 p.m. a Northwest Bethel Road resident reported damage to the driver's side door of her car, which had happened sometime within the previous 48 hours. Damage was estimated at $250.

At 12:01 a.m. police received a report of cars racing on the East Bethel Road and Middle Intervale Road.

On Saturday, May 26 at 7:35 p.m. police received a report of loud music at a house on Paradise Road.

1990 Trek Across Maine booked

The American Lung Association of Maine announced recently that it has reached the maximum number of participants for the 1990 Trek Across Maine.

"Over 600 applications have been received for the 1990 trek," said Trek Director Peter King. "We hate to turn away participants, but a record turn out in 1990 means that some will miss this annual event. We have to limit the number to ensure a quality experience for all the participants," says King.

The ride will begin at 10 a.m. on Friday, June 15 from the Sunday River Ski Resort and follow the Androscoggin River the Middle Intervale and East Bethel Roads.

The bicyclists will pass through Rumford, Corner, Abbot's Mills and South Rumford, before West Peru where they will turn onto Route 2 and continue straight onto the Dixfield Road. On Saturday, June 16, the bicyclists will begin leaving Farmington at 7:30 a.m. They will ride on Route 27 North, turn onto Route 234, pick up routes 201A and 8 where they will bicycle through downtown Madison. A rest stop is planned for the Old Point Road. They will continue on Route 8, to Route 137 and follow Route 23 through Oakland to Waterville and the second night destination, Colby College.

On the final day bicyclists will leave early Sunday morning and proceed through Fairfield, Benton and Albion, where they will pick up Route 137, to Route 17, to Route 59 along the shadows of Mt. Battie. Route 17 will be joined at the Meadow Road where the cyclists will ride to Broadway in Rockland, turn left onto Park Street for the grand finish at the Trade Winds.

The 1990 trek is expected to raise about $200,000 for the American Lung Association of Maine.

Bethel selectmen talk costs to dump septic tank sludge

The Bethel selectmen learned at their Monday night meeting that accepting septic tank sludge at the town's wastewater treatment plant is going to require more extensive preparation than they had originally hoped.

Environmental consultant John Fanczy told the selectmen that early discussions with the Department of Environmental Protection engineer Don Albert indicated that the DEP would allow sludge dumping as long as four conditions were met:

1. That the town remove from the treatment system the required five gallons of storm water and ground water for every gallon of sludge it would be putting in on an annual basis;
2. That the treatment plan be operating in substantial compliance with DEP regulations;
3. That the septicage receiving plant be upgraded to provide better pretreatment, with the pre-treated septicage being fed into the system only at night;
4. That the septicage be fed into the system only when there would be no bypassing of untreated sewage into the river.

Fanczy said it was only following this discussion that he received a letter from Albert saying the DEP would require a 50:1 ratio of "clean" water removal from the system per gallon of septicage dumped.

Albert wrote, "The removal of inflow/infiltration at the ratio of 5:1 is appropriate when considering the addition of domestic wastewater with a typical BOD (Biological Oxygen Demand) concentration of 200 mg/l. As you know sewage has a typical BOD concentration of 10,000 mg/l."

Fanczy told the selectmen that DuBois & King, Inc., the engineering firm working for the town on the sewer plant upgrade, had come up with a good idea, which includes pre-treating the septicage and finally putting the sludge on the reed beds or spreading it, as is done with the plant's other sludge.

However, Fanczy said, the town would need to increase its sludge handling capacity by 100,000 gallons per year, to 300,000 gallons to handle the septicage. "We'd very much like to think about adding more reed beds," he said. "40,000 would expand the reed beds enough to handle the additional (sludge) as well as give us a little bit of growing space."

Alternatively, the town could expand its sludge spreading program, which involves the costs of trucking the sludge and having it and the land it is spread on tested for heavy metals.

"So we need to look at the costs of developing another sludge dump versus the cost of adding to the reed bed," said Selectman John Thurston.

In other business, the selectmen approved a resolve thanking retiring Selectman Pat Doon for her nine years of dedicated service to the town and presented her with a plaque honoring her as being "a good spokesman for the Bethel taxpayers."

Doon, who acknowledged feelings of ambivalence about leaving the board, said, "We haven't always agreed on this board but I have always enjoyed my nine years."

The town, on Friday, June 8 from 3-5 p.m. will host a public reception for Doon in the selectmen's meeting room at the Town Office.

Also, the selectmen agreed to include the following items on the agenda for their June 18 meeting: To hear a recommendation by Bethel Police Chief Brian Stowell on requested changes in the skateboard ordinance; to discuss buying a new police cruiser; to discuss sewer plans for Bethel Park Apartments.

Howe holds a doctorate in Canadian history from the University of Maine, and for the last 16 years has been director of the Bethel Historical Society.

Long active in politics, Howe has been a delegate to every Republican convention since 1974 and has served on numerous town and county committees and as a volunteer on several legislative campaigns.

He views the major issues facing the state as solid waste, education, tourism, taxes, development, and the continued health of the wood-products industry.

In the Democratic column for District 48, Sue Fraser of Bethel is running unopposed.

Senate District 8 (northern Oxford County) Jeff Mills of Bethel and Eugene Boivin of Rumford are both seeking to fill the seat of Sen. Ed Erwin, the long-time representative from Rumford, who is not seeking re-election.

Boivin, a graduate of Rumford High School, retired in March after 16 years as fire chief in Rumford—a position, he said, which gave him "lots of hands-on experience dealing with people problems."

He said that if elected he would attempt "to bring some common sense to Augusta," and would work to curb the legislature's tendency to place mandates on municipalities without providing funding to pay for meeting them.

Mills is a graduate of the University of Maine at Orono, where he was elected student body president.

Mills was elected to the legislature in 1983 and reelected in 1988 and 1988.

In the legislature, Mills has worked actively on environmental, economic, housing and transportation issues. If elected to the senate, he said, he would continue his involvement with environmental issues, as well as work to protect the labor force and provide educational and job opportunities for Maine people.

Randy Hotham of Dixfield is running unopposed for the Republican nomination for Senate District 8.

Two Oxford County positions are also being contested at the primary level.

Sheriff Lloyd Herrick of Paris and Wayne Marston of Norway are both seeking the Republican nomination for county sheriff.

A 1975 graduate of the Maine Criminal Justice Academy, Herrick has served as Paris Police Chief since 1981.

He said his decision to run is based on the greater demands on countywide law enforcement in the 1990s. "We've got to prepare ourselves for a larger amount of serious crimes," which are rooted in drugs, lack of education and lack of personal values, he said.

Marston has 12 years of local law enforcement experience, including eight as a detective sergeant with the Norway Police Department. He has taken law enforcement and criminal justice courses at the University of Maine as well as from the U.S. Army and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

A main priority for Marston, if elected, would be to make the most efficient use possible of current resources, and to set up a countywide task force for coordinating and planning law enforcement activities.

On the Democratic side, Averill Bertram of Canton is running unopposed for county sheriff.

Register of Deeds Incumbent Gayla Sue Pulkkinen of Paris is being challenged for the Democratic nomination by Jane Rich of Andover.

Pulkkinen, who has served two, two-year terms in the position, has taken courses at the University of Maine at Farmington, and had worked as an executive secretary for 16 years before becoming register.

She said one of her main efforts if reelected would be to make the public more aware of the valuable information—including genealogical research materials—housed at the Registry of Deeds.

Rich served for nine years as a selectman and assessor in Andover, including six years as chairman of the board of selectmen. She is currently a full-time student at the University of New Hampshire, majoring in behavioral science, with a minor in management.

She said she is running because she believes in the Democratic primary system and feels her extensive assessing experience makes her a strong candidate for the register's position.

There are no Republican candidates for the post.

All other state and county offices have at most one candidate per party.

Telstar baseball players call it a season

The season is over a bit earlier than usual for the Telstar High School baseball squad.

Last year the Rebels went all the way in post season, winning the Maine State Class C Championship. But this year was a different story, as the squad piled up only a 6-11 record and narrowly missed qualifying for the playoffs.

Coach Levi Brown lost nine of his starters from last year's championship team, and he knew he was in for a rebuilding year.

At the beginning of this season, the coach said he'd be pleased with a break-even record, and the team nearly pulled that off. Only a few scattered bad innings kept the Rebels from racking up more victories.

"We were up and down like a roller coaster," Brown said, "but we seemed to hit bottom at least once in most games. Take out one bad inning from many of our games and we would have won."

An erratic defense (5.5 errors per game) led to most of the losses. "There's no substitute for experience, and it usually turns up in your defense," he said.

Prospects for next year are not a lot brighter. The JV squad won only one game, and even that was an improvement from the previous season.

There is some hope on the horizon, Brown said. A number of good athletes are in the current 7th and 8th grades and appear to be committed to baseball.

When they reach the high school, Telstar should re-emerge as a playoff contender. For this year, Brown said, "The kids played as well as they could, and that's what matters."

Youth tennis lessons to begin June 26

Beginning June 26, the Bethel Recreation Board and the Newry Recreation Board will sponsor six weeks of tennis lessons.

Students ages six through eight will meet from 8:30-9:15 a.m. Tuesday at the Riverview Motel Court and Thursday at the Sunday River Ski Resort courts; ages 9-11 from 9:30-10:45 a.m. and ages 12-14 from 11:15-12:15 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday at the same locations.

Instructor Wendy Gray will teach groundstrokes, serve, volley and lob-through drills and game playing. Players should bring shoes or sneakers and a racket. A few demo rackets are available.

The cost of the program is $10 for the six lessons. Applications are available at the Bethel and Newry town offices or may be picked up at the first session. For more information, call 824-3894.

A week in the life of HILARY HARRISON

Hey, how's it going? Pretty good here. Last weekend my family and I worked outside in the yard. My dad built a box for the flowers around a corner of our porch that probably won't grow because they got my touch. Oh well, I'm trying.

Also last weekend I went to Littlefield Beaches for the day. We were celebrating three birthdays, my grand-father's, Heather's and mine. I was wearing a black shirt. I was also outside all day. By the end of the day my face was beet red from sunburn. I was laying on the couch all night not feeling well. I'll never get too much sun ever again. Well, see ya later.

Suzanne M. Roy

Suzanne Roy graduates from Trinity College

The Ira Allen Chapel on the University of Vermont campus was the setting for the May 12, 1990 graduation of Suzanne Michelle Roy.

Roy received her Bachelor of Arts degree, summa cum laude, with a double major in Elementary Education and Math and Science in Elementary Education.

Roy was chosen as one of two speakers for the commencement and was introduced by Trinity College President Sister Janice Ryan.

In her four years at Trinity she was the recipient of many honors, including: Presidential Merit Scholar, Beta Beta Beta Biological National Honor Society, Ruth Kelly Izzo Scholarship for Excellence in Elementary Education, and Kappa Gamma Phi National Catholic Honor Society.

Roy graduated from Telstar Regional High School in 1986. She is the daughter of Richard and Ann Roy of Locke Mills.

Bethel area swimming program begins July 2

The Bethel area swim program will be held at Songo Pond from July 2-27. Registrations may be picked up and returned to the Town Office along with the $5 fee (non-residents, $10) until June 20.

UMF graduates local students

United States Senator George J. Mitchell of Maine gave the keynote address to 387 members of the graduating class at the University of Maine at Farmington's 137th commencement ceremony on Saturday, May 12.

Recipient of the Bachelor of General Studies Degree was, in General Studies, Susan C. Dorman (cum laude), Locke Mills.

Recipient of the Bachelor of Science Degree was, in Home Economics, Jane Barker Head, West Bethel.

Recipient of the Bachelor of Arts Degree was Christopher Milton Mills, Bryant Pond.

Sit 'N Ski donated to MHS

Exxon Company, U.S.A. donated $965.00 to Maine Handicapped Skiing (MHS) for the purchase of a new Mountain Man Sit 'N Ski for the 1990 season on behalf of Walter Hatch, a MHS skiing volunteer from Bethel.

The Sit 'N Ski allows paraplegics and quadriplegics the opportunity to experience the joys and challenges of alpine skiing.

Walter, a retired chemical engineer with Exxon, assisted MHS with the grant.

Working Women to meet

The next meeting of the Oxford Hills area "Working Women" will take place on Tuesday, June 12 at Goldstreet Restaurant in South Paris beginning with social time at 5:30 p.m., dinner at 6 p.m., and business meeting at 7 p.m.

This month's guest speaker is noted writer and humor columnist for the Maine Sunday Telegram, Margery Eliseu.

Eliseu has been a resident of Poland for 20 years and was previously a writer and reporter in the Norway area for eight years.

She recently published a book titled, "Russell Baker, Erma Bombeck and Me" which typifies her lighthearted look at everyday life.

Working Women is open to all women in the Oxford Hills area who wish to grow professionally and learn from each other's working experience.

To make reservations or for more information, phone Pam Baker at Casual Connections, 743-8705.

Enrichment program planned for children

A volunteer group of concerned parents working with the Cooperative Extension has planned a summer program of enrichment for children. The program, called A.R.K. (Area Resources for Kids) is focused on the visual and performing arts, science and international cultures.

The program will begin on June 16 with five consecutive Saturday morning workshops. There is a small registration fee to cover a portion of the artists materials.

In addition, the A.R.K. group is sponsoring a music for kids concert of classical musicians from around the county. The musicians are a combination of the Katahdin Chamber Ensemble and the Sebago/Long Lake Chamber Music.

Concerts. More information will follow about the upcoming concert.

The following is a list of the Saturday Enrichment sessions for youth: June 16—Diane Dupuis, African Folk Dance for Youngsters; June 23—Katie Branch, Nature Imagery: An Exploration of sound, movement, and art; June 30—Nikki Millonzi, Visual Arts: Jungle theme collecting found objects with a group mural outdoors; July 7—Jim Chandler, two session: nature detectives, exploring and searching for clues to nature's mysteries; and July 14—Snee Music (Pam Weeks), will create a program on the family of string instruments.

Enrollment for sessions will begin May 16 at the Extension Office in South Paris. Please call for further information. 743-8329.

Pvt. Stephen J. McLain III has completed basic training at Fort Sill, Okla.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies.

He is the son of Stephen J. and Lise L. McLain of Rural Route 2, Bethel.

The private is a 1989 graduate of Telstar High School.

Greg Kaufman wins Bausch & Lomb award

Greg Kaufman of Bethel was named winner of the annual Bausch & Lomb Science Award on May 26 at Gould Academy.

The award is presented each year to winners at approximately 7,500 participating schools throughout the United States, Canada and several foreign nations. More than 360,000 medals have been awarded to outstanding science students since the program began in 1933.

According to Dr. Harry "Dutch" Dresser, Jr., who presented the award, "The Bausch & Lomb Science Award is especially significant because it recognizes the junior student at our school who has attained the highest scholastic standing in science subjects."

As winner of the award, Kaufman is eligible to apply to become a University of Rochester Bausch & Lomb Scholar. This designation carries with it scholarship funds, the minimum amount being $5,000.

Bausch & Lomb, worldwide leader in healthcare and optics, is one of America's oldest and most successful companies, with a heritage of technical achievement and product excellence dating back to 1853. The company, headquartered in Rochester, N.Y., has manufacturing or marketing organizations in 25 countries and employs 12,000 people worldwide.

Swimming lessons at Woodstock-Greenwood

Woodstock-Greenwood swimming lessons are scheduled to start on July 9 and run through July 27.

Woodstock School

I would like to take this opportunity to thank each of you for your support you have given me during my tenure here at the Woodstock School. As I prepare to leave I can certainly look back on six exciting and productive years. During that time, we have assembled an outstanding staff, built a strong parent teacher organization and moved into a beautiful new building. More importantly, we have worked together to make the Woodstock School a warm and exciting place for children to grow and learn.

I have often said that the success of the Woodstock School is based on a recipe that has all of the right ingredients: a caring and dedicated staff, interested parents and wonderful kids. The result of this recipe is obvious to all who enter our building.

I would like to thank everyone for the wonderful surprise party held here for me earlier this week. The cards and presents were fantastic. My plaque will hang proudly in my new office at Crescent Park. The memory tree planted in my name will remain here in the spot where it was planted by Mrs. Greeke's third grade. Many thanks to the W.P.T.O., the Franklin Grange, the staff, students, members of the Student Council and all others who helped plan this special event.

In closing, I must state that the Woodstock School will always be special to me. I have been fortunate to make many good friends in the community and look forward to maintaining these friendships. I cannot think of a better place for me to have started out as a Principal. My years here have convinced me that quality education does make a difference in a child's life.

Once again, thank!
David W. Murphy

Tanya Corrin participates in Bates' Career Discovery Internship Program

Tanya M. Corrin, daughter of Den Corrin of Bryant Pond and Kay Krapf, also of Bryant Pond, participated this year in the Career Discovery Internship Program at Bates College, where she is completing her junior year.

A graduate of Palo Alto (Calif.) High School, Corrin spent several days with Bates alumnus Edward Glaser, captain and owner of the schooner Isaac H. Evans, operated out of Rockland as a passenger-carrying windjammer cruise ship.

The CDIP is held annually during Bates' spring vacation and provides students at the Lewiston liberal arts college with opportunities to look into career areas, make job contacts and learn about certain businesses and professions.

The CDIP is sponsored by Bates alumni, the College's Office of Career Services, and the Bates Key and College Club, honorary alumnae and alumni service organizations.

Melissa Palmer wins U.S. Collegiate award

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that Melissa L. Palmer of Newry has been named a United States National Collegiate Award winner in Elementary Education. The Academy recognizes less than 10 percent of all American college students.

Melissa L. Palmer, who attends New England College in Henniker, N.H., was nominated for this National Award by Professor Debra Nitschke-Shaw at the school. Palmer will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Collegiate Yearbook, published nationally.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of professors, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy.

The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a professor or director.

Melissa is the daughter of Francis and Louise Palmer. The grandparents are George and Rose Bachelder of Rumford and Edward and Beatrice Paine of South Paris.

End of the year activities are upon us. All grades are wrapping up units; reports are coming in; and end-of-level testing is being completed. All classes are working on projects to be presented at the Curriculum Fair which will be held during the last week of school.

I have a correction to make. Last week I switched the dates of the fair.

The correct dates are: grades 2-6 will be holding their fair on Tuesday, June 12 in the afternoon; grades K-1 will be presenting their exhibits on Thursday, June 14, in the morning. We do encourage parents and friends to come and view all the displays.

On June 6, the sixth grade and all members of the recycling committee will be meeting with Dr. Smith to report on all the projects that our school has been promoting. The committee's goal is to promote recycling throughout our district.

On Thursday afternoon, June 14, the annual awards assembly will be held at approximately 2 p.m. for grades 2-6. The chorus will present a short program, as will the "Orffestra".

The latter is an instrumental group performing with instruments from the Karl Orff school of music.

Our Orffestra is made up of Liberty Woodworth, Renee Pratt, Willo Andrews,

Father's Day

Some of our classes have enjoyed interesting field trips this week. The second grade spent a whole day at the Bryant Pond Conservation Camp learning about a program called the Web of Life. The students learned to be nature detectives and searched for signs of animal homes in a specified area. They became birds and had a bird's eye view of life, gathering materials for a nest and gathering food with a "clothespin beak."

They ended with the web of life activity which was designed to show the interdependence of nature. Each child received a piece of yellow yarn from a ball of yarn representing the sun. This formed the web. Each child held a picture of an animal and was asked what would happen to that animal if something was missing from nature i.e., water, plants, other animals.

The first graders enjoyed their trip to Perham's as a follow up activity to their study of rocks. One of the highlights of this trip was learning about the gems that were their birthstones.

Both the kindergartners and the first graders are looking forward to their trip to Moose Crossing Farm to see the sheep. They will see wool being combed and spun and all will bring back a woolen sample of their very own.

The fifth grade had a field trip right in their own back yard. Andrea Wobkenberg, who is in the field of woodland management for Boise Cascade, visited and prepared several activities for us to take advantage of on our own nature trail.

Activities included tree identification and the importance of the aquifer, how to tell the age of a tree. Many thanks to Andrea and Boise Cascade from all of us!

Our Field Day activities are set for Friday, June 8.

Children in grades 4-6 should be prepared with a bag lunch and should be dressed for the weather.

The open fields of Hebron Academy can be cool and windy, or very hot under a warm sun. Lotion to prevent burning should be considered.

Newry Community Day a rousing success

Three cheers for great weather and a fantastic turn-out at the Newry Community Day, Sunday, June 3. Folks brought a picnic for openers, then events proceeded quickly, bringing Sunday River and Bear River together in friendly competition.

The first event was the junior pie eating contest. When platters were licked clean Nate McVey, Jason Berry and Parker Gray were first in showing their true color: Blue, all over.

Next, the grown-up kids (age 14+) had their turn at "woofin' down". Only this time the pies were lemon, chocolate and coconut cream, much to the delight of the big guys and the gals. Winners were Brad Wight, Denise Roderick and Joe Altosio. Enthusiasm running high, folks moved to the field for hug-me tag, blob tag and egg throw, followed by the fill-the-can relay. Really hot and tired now, the kids all got drinks and joined the growing numbers over at the ballfield for SR vs. BR softball.

After losing two balls to the pucker brush, many chest-bruising slides to the plate (great one, Jake B!) and a fair amount of pop flies, high pitches, slammers and softballs-to-the-shins, the score was lost sight of (though it seemed it might have been top-sided) and all ended well as the first sprinkles fell from the sky.

While picking up and packing up, Recreation Committee members shared their pleasure at the good turn-out and community spirit.

Another get-together for later this summer will be discussed at the June 7 Recreation Committee meeting. Special thanks are extended to Sunday River Ski Resort for the use of its grill and donations; also to McDonald's of Rumford for the punch and to Bill and Sylvia Wight for the use of their picnic tables.

Oxford Pomona Grange

Bear Mountain Grange hosted Oxford Pomona for its May meeting with 62 in attendance.

Bill Grant of the Maine State Grange Youth and Legislative Committees, Vicki Huff, Youth Committee and Ruby Whitney for the State C.W.A. were welcomed.

The fifth degree was conferred upon Robin and Michael Munoz of Oxford Grange and Dorothy and Brian Hatch of Bear Mountain Grange.

Taking part on the degree team were Hazel Conant as Master with Francis Conant, Gail Butterfield, Raymond Tripp, Jr., Randy and Linda Jack, Micki Huff, Anna Woodworth, Shirley Foster, Harold Canwell, Elizabeth Bragg, Ruby Whitney, Olive Risko and Del Canwell. Others participating were Lucille Robbins, Elizabeth Foster, Myrtle Bisbee, Madeline Purington, Lettie Brooks, Olive Davis, Clyde Whitney, Lewis Bisbee, Richard Felt and Bertha Benoit.

Reports were given by the Legislative C.W.A., Youth and Deaf Activities Committees.

The Shop n' Save supper held jointly with Paris Grange was a great success. Twenty-five Grangers attended the Go To Church Sunday held during Grange Week.

Oxford Grange won the attendance banner.

A thank you note was read from Melinda Herrick thanking the Grange for the scholarship that she received.

A donation was voted for the Project Graduation at OHS from the youth fund.

A short Lecturer's program was held. Next meeting is June 5 at Frederick Roble Grange, Otisfield Gore and will be the Memorial Program. Supper at 6:30 p.m. with meeting at 7:30 p.m. On June 26, we will meet at Bear River Grange, Newry for election of officers.

THIS THE SEASON, and yard sales are popping up like dandelions. This weekend sale in Newry was sponsored by the Windy Valleys Snowmobile Club, with the proceeds going to trail maintenance. The club also sponsors a sale in the fall, to aid the mentally retarded in Oxford County.

Barth announces campaign team

Al Barth, candidate for the Maine House of Representatives, District 49, has announced his campaign organization for the June 12 Primary.

"I've built a grass roots organization in all areas of the district by going door-to-door, from Lovell to Rangeley, Watford to Avon, and all places between, in this vast district," said Barth.

Primary campaign chairman is the candidate's wife, Lee Barth, a third grade teacher in the Watford School. Campaign coordinators are Nancy and Roland Sutton of Norway. Roland Sutton is a successful businessman and served two terms in the State Senate while Nancy Sutton has served as Republican county chairman and on many election committees in past elections.

Mary Brown of Bethel is the treasurer for the Barth campaign. She is a long-term resident of Bethel and currently substitutes in the SAD #44 school system.

"I plan to be in all the towns after the election," said Barth, "to keep current with the issues and concerns. Constituent work is my number one priority and to help me keep in touch I will also have active representatives in every town."

Those currently working on the primary campaign are Pete and Margaret Baker, Wilson's Mills; Arnold Brown, Bethel; Raynor Brown, North Watford; Lorraine Cameron, Magalloway; Fay and Ed Carpenter, Rangeley; Claire and Barry Carver, Bethel; Steve and Lynda Chandler, Bethel; Martha and John Eaton, Watford; Wende Gray, Bethel; June Greig, Bethel; John and Dot Kidder, Rangeley; Merritt Kimball, South Watford; Newton and Gladys Masternan, Weld; Evelyn and Tom McAllister, Sandy River Plantation; Paul Meservey, Rangeley Plantation; Ann, Dave and Tom Morton, Hanover; Norm and Joan Putnam, Bethel; Ginny Snow, Newry; Bill Stockwell, Watford; Don and Barbara Trip, Center Lovell; Penny and John Tucker, Watford; Jakki Wiese, Bethel; Steve and Peggy Wight, Newry; and Donna Woodward, Lovell.

"Republicans need to realize they must elect their strongest candidate for the November election," said Barth, "and I certainly feel I am that candidate. I look forward to a good race and urge all republicans to go to the polls on June 12," said Barth.

New pediatrician at BAHC

Dr. Paulette Coty of Rumford will begin a limited practice at the Bethel Area Health Center, BAHC Executive Director George Larson announced Friday.

Dr. Coty, who is a pediatrician, will be available once a month for half a day. Parents who would like an appointment are encouraged to contact the health center. Coty will see her first patients in Bethel on June 5 from 9 a.m.-12.

Upton

By ARLINE BERNIER

Arthur and Viola Barnett Johnson of Mercer were in Upton Sunday to visit graves. They called on the Berniers and then on to Errol to visit the cemetery and visit relatives and friends in that area. They filled us in on the welfare of some of our mutual friends and we talked a bit of old times as Viola and I had shared our childhoods in Upton.

Gary, Moe and Leah Pinkham of Manchester, N.H., were guests of his mother, Violette and Ray Bernier over the holiday weekend. The Bernier's also entertained his sister, Lorraine and Frank Levesque of Tewksbury, Mass., and her father, John and Avis Orata of Winthrop.

Vi sees much wildlife including a baby moose, a fox who spat at her cat and had the favor returned, a mockingbird and a group of hummingbirds of two varieties.

The Edwards took pictures of a very unusual partridge type bird.

The apple trees are budding with the first blooms appearing the last day of May.

Bethel

By VIRGINIA WALKER

Mr. and Mrs. Don Walker attended their grandson Ben Smith's graduation at St. Dominics High School in Lewiston Friday evening. Following graduation exercises they joined a family gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert March in Greene.

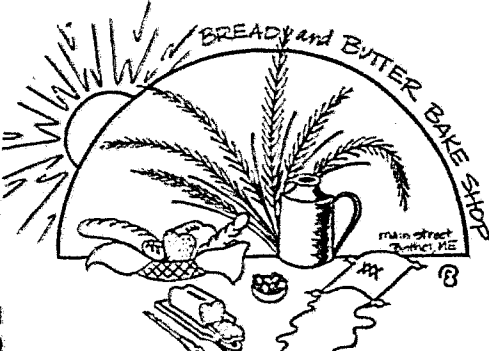

Over 30 members of Sue Fraser's family joined her in Hamilton, N.Y., recently for her graduation from Colgate University. Among those attending were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Winslow and her grandmother, Doris Fraser, all of Bethel.

Mark Clanton was promoted to 1st Lt. on Friday and assigned to 524 Tactical Fighter Training Squadron at Cannon AFB, New Mexico. 1st Lt. Clanton is the son of Norman and Sylvia Clanton.

Elderwood Manor Items

by Florence Hall
Visitors at the Catherine McGuire residence were Laura Staples and son Howard of Portland, Dora Morton of Andover, both sisters of Mrs. McGuire, daughters, Elaine Gaudet of Roxbury, Gloria Chamberlain of Madison and son, Roger McGuire of North Rumford.

Alma Hewey has been a patient at the Rumford Community Hospital and is now staying with her daughter, Louise Powell of Frye.

Elizabeth Sennett shopped in the Gorham, N.H., area Memorial Day with her granddaughter, Betty Davis and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Sweatt of Farmington visited Anne Sweatt Fox one day this past weekend.

Dorothy Elliott, a former tenant of the Manor, now residing at Coxy Inn, East Rumford, visited friends at the Manor on Memorial Day accompanied by her niece Phyllis Chandler of Lovell.

Visiting Gertrude Hutchins, Memorial Day was her granddaughter, Deanna Hutchins and friend of Camden.

Your correspondent, Florence Hall was swept off the ground May 24 during a wind storm causing her to have a broken left arm. She is recovering from the incident at the home of Louis Hall in Roxbury after a week's stay in the hospital. The hospital gave her a pass on Sunday to attend a birthday party in honor of her 80th birthday by her relatives from Portland, Damariscotta, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Nova Scotia, Roxbury, Rumford, Vermont, and Blue Hill. This was held at the Andover Elementary gymnasium.

Tenants are planting flowers in their areas making the Manor very colorful.

Visiting Flora Whitten over the weekend were Kim Stinson of Bethel, Lynn Marshall of Dixfield, and the former Beth Hodgdon of New Jersey, all granddaughters.

Calvary Congregational Church
Our guests last week were Rev. and Mrs. Austin Calder from Campobello Island, New Brunswick. His message was "The Resurrection of God's People."

Jere, 50-1-8; each will look the way they are going. The choir sang "Be Exalted, O God." Missionary Moments: a letter was shared from John Hasie, Zaire, Africa, a teacher in a mission school for missionary children. The Sunday evening service featured a message from the Austin Calders followed by a social hour with refreshments.

Songo Pond

By ALICE KIMBALL

Many of our summer neighbors were at their cottages here over the holiday weekend.

Marjorie and Hugh Awalt of Augusta were supper visitors of her mother, Mrs. Elmira Doyen Saturday. Monday callers were Weston Flint and Mrs. Winona Verrill of South Paris, Lee Hindman, Barbara and children of Windsor.

Sunday visitors of Mrs. Christine Kimball were Paul and Iva Fox of Monmouth. On Saturday, Mrs. Bonnie Pepin, Samantha and her two children of South Portland spent the day there and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Whitney of Naples spent the evening.

I was in Rumford Thursday for check-ups and enjoyed lunch with the Adams family in Hanover. Mrs. Kate Adams had arrived there the day before from visiting her son in Connecticut.

Mrs. Ethel Bean Turner and Amber of Otisfield spent the afternoon with me on Sunday and Dotti Adams also visited awhile.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Burgess of Greene visited Christine Kimball on the holiday. They all enjoyed supper at the Red Top II.

Mrs. Pam Rugg went with Christine to Norway Thursday for her check-up. They also visited awhile with Mrs. Jocelyn Heath and family.

Friday I spent the day with Ethel and family in Otisfield while she entertained the Otisfield Historical Society and had on display a trunk full of beautiful antique clothing.

Several of the Lincoln families from Massachusetts were at the Lincoln home over the holiday weekend.

Putting something away for a rainy day requires a lot longer stretch of dry weather than it used to.

Newry

By GIL SEELEY

Services were held May 27 at the Newry Community Church with Pastor Rodney Hanson officiating with the help of his daughter Nancy at the organ. "Christ's prayer for us" was the message and scripture reading was Acts 1:6-14, 1 Peter 4:12-14 and St. John 17:1-11. Also, guest Matthew Wright who was here with his wife and children visiting with his parents, Owen and Sue Wright. A reading in memory of Edmund F. Seeley who passed away 10 years ago was delivered by his wife Gilberte Seeley.

A special service was performed at the Newry Town Building at 11 a.m. Sunday morning in memory of all the veterans who served in the armed forces. A plaque with the local veteran names was unveiled and placed on the large rock in front of the building. Bill Wright and James Sysko gave moving speeches in memory of their comrades who passed away and those who came back. Taps were sounded and a prayer was read by veteran, Pastor Rodney Hanson. Coffee and snacks were served by the ladies of the Newry Church.

The Course of Life: Our birth is but a starting place, and death is the running race, there all our steps at last are brought, that path alone, of all unthought, is found of all to these O God, my thoughts arise, thou great, eternal good, and wise, to these I cry, Gird me the race of life to run and give me then the victor's crown with thee on high.

The Newry ladies who bowl "for fun" at the Oxford Lanes in Rumford were: Karlene Bachelier, Betsy Clark, Gil Seeley, Sylvia Wright, Louise Tetley and Olive Anderson. Rena Powers was a guest. Karlene was high on the singles with one string of 117 and another of 128. She was also high on the triples with a high score of 338. All went to lunch and did some shopping.

The Mother's Club banquet is June 11 at the Town and Country Inn. Members are to leave Newry at 6:30 p.m. as usual.

Theresa Toti of Harrisville, R.I., spent the weekend with her aunt, your's truly and joined with the church and memorial ceremonies. Later in the afternoon she treated Bill and Sylvia Wright, Louise Tetley and I to dinner at the Town and Country Inn.

The young people of Telstar were at it again last Saturday washing cars to raise money for their student exchange program. Great work kids. I like that, although they must have gone home pretty wet. Ha!

There are three sorts of governments, monarchical, aristocratical, and democratical; and they are apt to fall three several ways into ruin. The first, by tyranny, the second by ambition, the last by tumults. A commonwealth grounded upon any one of these is not of long continuance, but wisely mingled, each guards the other and makes that government exact.

What a beautiful Memorial Day weekend! A lot of the people I called took advantage of the weather and put in their gardens except for the transplants (tomatoes, peppers, etc.). We did have rain the first part of the week which is good after the seeds are planted. One day and evening we had strong winds which brought the maple tree by Benson's to fall coming very near the porch. What a lovely time of year. Today, June 1 our granddaughter, Heather, will be eight years old. Last evening Kristin, I and James William went to the school for Cape Porpoise made a dooryard call to the Howe family having ridden up on their motorcycle.

Howard, Mack and Nick Chapman went to Moosehead Friday to Memorial Day.

Larry Smith, East Conway, N.H., came May 25 to help his brother Dennis Smith on his new home. Dennis' wife, Lisa went and picked him up and Homer and Edie took Larry back Saturday.

May 26 our granddaughter, Theresa, and school friend Jill came for dinner and a visit. Sunday Frank, Kristin, James William and I went to Gorham, N.H., to buy some things. Frank had forgotten for his fishing trip. Monday, Memorial Day Frank got started in good season and we had a cookout here. Kristin had invited her folks, Sheldon and Marsha Greene, and brother Michael, grandmother Swanson, Aunt Kathy and two children who wanted to see the orchard in bloom. I took George's truck and went to see friend Kathy Hanscom. Becky, Jon and Jen Shaw went to the Keniston camp May 26 and 27 at Songo. David, Jody Keniston, Heath and Heather were there all weekend.

Dr. Leonard Shaw and Don Cross went to Vermont State Trap School, Montpelier, Vt. on May 25-27.

Memorial Day Dr. Shaw and family all went out to camp at Songo.

Robert and Nancy Saunders of Nashua, N.H., stopped into his mother's, Pat and Jack Greig.

Sunday before Memorial Day the Greig's had Pat's aunt Romona and cousin Jodel and Bill Usher all of Westbrook; Pat's aunt, Doris Brown of West Bethel; and Pat's brother Brooks Morton, Newry.

Arny Hamon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hamon was one of the marchers at the four parades Telstar played in. She plays the trombone.

May 22, Linda Howe went to Waterville and spent the night visiting with a long time high school friend, Leslie Fowler and family.

May 25 the Howe family went to Bud and Joan Howe's to celebrate Suzanne Howe's birthday.

Sunday afternoon the Howe family went to North Pond boating and fishing and Memorial evening Seth and Jon Howe went to Crescent Park School for T-ball practice. Lewis and Erline Clough of Cape Porpoise made a dooryard call to the Howe family having ridden up on their motorcycle.

Howard, Mack and Nick Chapman went to Moosehead Friday to Memorial Day.

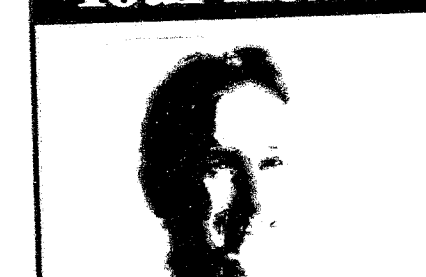

Larry Smith, East Conway, N.H., came May 25 to help his brother Dennis Smith on his new home. Dennis' wife, Lisa went and picked him up and Homer and Edie took Larry back Saturday.

Contact Dermatitis
From Outdoor Plants

Summertime outdoor activities can be spoiled by a rash with poison ivy, poison oak, or sumac. June and July are peak months for contact with these plants and the skin inflammation that follows. It has been reported that as many as 8 out of 10 persons are sensitive to poison ivy alone.

Blisters resulting from exposure to these plants are caused by a chemical in the plant sap called urushiol. Once this chemical contacts the skin, it begins to penetrate in a matter of minutes. Usually within two days, a rash develops which is followed by blistering, redness, and itching. After a few days the blisters become crusted and begin to scale. If there are no complications, the condition begins to clear in about 10 days.

If exposure to plant sap is suspected, exposed areas of the skin should be washed immediately. A mild rash may require nothing more than soaking in cool water. Home remedies that help dry oozing blisters include wet oatmeal or a solution of baking soda. Calamine, a mixture of zinc oxide and ferric oxide, reduces inflammation, stops oozing, and promotes healing. Topical medicines containing local anesthetics such as benzocaine may help alleviate pain. Hydrocortisone cream or spray usually relieves redness and itching.

BEFORE AND AFTER THE SALE

So. Woodstock

By OLIVE R. DAVIS

This has been a busy May with Memorial Day coming up and visiting the relatives lots, if you care. I went to nine different lots. Next week I will fix up two urns. I really didn't trust the weather to put live plants in them now. Monday was the appointed holiday when memorial will be observed. A week earlier than usual.

Sunday I also called on Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews and their families who came for the weekend. Some of us went to sister Lillian Harmon's lot with flowers.

I would like to correct my statement last week about the Historical Society's open house for visitors. It is open Saturday from 1-4 p.m. instead of 2-4 p.m. Larry Billings has donated an old measure to the Historical Museum collection. We hope you will visit the museum this summer and enjoy seeing new materials gathered. There is a second story now with many articles to be seen.

The Willing Workers held a variety sale at their hall Saturday to earn money to fix up the hall. Thank you all who worked on the sale and those who donated food and other articles for the sale. We give special thanks to those who patronized the sale.

Esther and Olive Davis called on Mr. and Mrs. Alanson Cummings at West Paris May 23.

Several have been having chest colds this past week. It is supposed to be summer, but hasn't felt much like it yet. Esther Davis, Edith Deegan, and Patsy Tibbetts attended the Hebron Pines Campground musical Sunday afternoon which lasted from 12-6:30 p.m. There were three bands that played and soloists sang with guitar accompaniment. Frank Knox's group Black Mt. Band was one who entertained.

Northern New England and Maritime Chapter of Society and Workers in Early Arts and Trades (S.W.E.A.T.) entertained 100 members and guests at the Old Andrews Mills for a S.W.E.A.T. fair over the weekend with Linwood "Pete" Andrews as host.

Dorene Benson hurt her ankle, that is she pulled a ligament in her leg so her foot and ankle swelled. She has been unable to be at her job at school for a few days.

Alishia Miclon marched in the parade at West Paris Memorial Day.

David Shaw passed away this weekend. He was a pastor of the Adventist Church for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Clements of Ware, N.H., spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Clements. They brought their cat Sniffles with them.

Linwood Andrews called on me Monday morning. He was doing his good turn that he is noted for.

Everyone is trying to get their gardens planted while we have this growing weather. It has been so cold and many gardens too wet so this job couldn't be done earlier. The black flies are terrible this year which doesn't make it any easier.

"Buster" Leon Poland, Sr. had a sale over the weekend at the W.W. building.

CONTEL OF MAINE OFFERS TELEPHONE ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

Qualifying Maine residents who are Contel customers can receive help in paying for their telephone service under two low income assistance programs being offered through Contel of Maine.

The two programs are the Telephone Lifeline Service and Link-Up America. They are available to residence households who receive aid under one of the following programs: Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), Supplemental Security Income (SSI), Medicaid, Food Stamps or Energy Assistance (HEAP). The Department of Human Services or the Division of Community Services must verify the household's participation in the program.

Under Lifeline, those eligible receive a $3.50 reduction in their basic monthly rate, and a waiver of the monthly $3.50 End User Common Line Charge—a total monthly benefit of $7.00.

Customers currently enrolled in the Lifeline Program need not reapply.

Link-Up America, the Installation Subsidy Program provides for installation or reconnection of telephone service for $10.00.

Customers must be certified as eligible by the appropriate State of Maine agency or present satisfactory proof of eligibility to Contel of Maine for both the reduced monthly rate and the installation credit.

Contel is pleased to offer these valuable customer assistance programs. Call our Business Office at 563-9911 for information and applications.

Saturday, May 26, we had a good crowd at the supper. Many thanks to everyone who cooked to make it such a success.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oja spent the long holiday weekend with their daughter, Julie Oja at Carland, N. Y. They also went to Niagara Falls.

Monday, May 28, the West Paris Grange sponsored the nice Memorial Day parade. The cemeteries looked so nice.

Anyone wishing to have letters or numbers for their house, please call Barry Noyes, 674-3702. He is taking orders for Larry Noyes, who makes them and paints them. They are really nice. I have a set.

June 15 Mrs. Florence Iley will be 103 years young. Neighbors and friends, please send her a card.

My callers have been Gertrude Coffin and Arthur Jr., Odell Heath, Richard Felt, Joe Vatcher, Lucy Robbins, Howard Anderson, Bud and Mione Record, Dale, Sandra Coffin and Jimbo. Thursday, May 31, Jeanne Millett took me to Dr. Bruce Mason. I have to go again June 8.

Friday, June 1, I went to East Stoneham to the cemetery and to visit Polly Lawrence. She wasn't home. I sat in the screen house, but the bugs still bothered, so I visited Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card on the way home. Thelma has a heck of a cold. I've had one, sneezed, wheezed and coughed my head off. Barbara Felt has had one for a month, but she said Thursday it was a little better.

Greenwood City

By COLISTA MORGAN

On a clear bracing day, just right to enjoy the richness of growing things, I decided to just wander a bit into the woods. Up over a ridge I went pausing by an ancient tree trunk, moss covered and lichen touched. It was so elegant in appearance that it was really beautiful.

In a little dip beyond, I marveled at the tender ferns, mosses and wild flowers. These flowers ignored, were born to be wild, untouched by a hoe, not planned, but unattended, still remain year after year.

A buccaneering-bee was performing flower piracy, while a vagabond-breeze played in their leaves.
The canopy above made it cool beneath, yet, there was a blue window through which I could peek and ponder the endlessness of space.

I liked to hear the snap of dry twigs beneath my feet and feel the softness as I walked on the moss.
I walked along a little brook and found "Jack-the-preacher" ensconced in his delicate pulpit; he loved the woods and the tune of the brook, as I did, standing their looking and listening. Some times the "pulpits" are of a light green veined with purple. This difference in color has been thought to indicate the sex of the flower within; males shielded by the green, the female by the purple hoods.

I turned toward home and faced the mountains. Soft clouds in heaps were above them and shadows played on the pond.

At the feeder in my yard were several purple finches. How pretty they were! It's easy to guess why their wives wear ordinary stripes—when the men folk get their outfits, there's nothing left to buy finery for their ladies.

I can't express the colors that glorify the feathers of birds when they are touched by sunlight. I think Mr. P. Finch pushed his way to the front line, when Mother Nature handed out the good things of life.

Besides being so resplendent in color he is provided with a rich, sweet song. If I give him a good amount of seeds he repays me with a rippling rivulet of music.

The day slipped away, as fast as any other. So when there appeared the time of fading light I wished I could cling to this day. But the light faded and the day went, the final day of May. Tomorrow is June.

Fay Holt had a birthday party for her granddaughter, Mary Holt, on Monday. Mary's dad and mama attended as did her grandfather, Aunt Ann and I.

I have had several callers this week. I enjoyed the visit of Kathy Kelly, her two lovely children and her mother, Fran Swanson from South Paris.

Fay Holt spent some time visiting her cousins, Sylvia Cummings and Madge Bland in South Paris on Thursday. I'm sorry I missed Eva Schools who called on Thursday. I was at my doctor's in Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Inman, West Paris, were at their cottage.

Rena Curtis' granddaughter, Bonnie of South Paris visited her the first of the week. Don and Carla Whittemore, Oxford, were callers also.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

I Need Your Help

I want to win the Democratic Senate seat representing District 8, and I wish to do so without the help of large contributions from Political Action Committees (P.A.C.), because there is too much money being spent now in political campaigns. I would like to show that one can still be elected and maintain his integrity in spite of various lobbying organizations. The only special interest groups or organizations that I am interested in representing are the voters in this district in Augusta. For this I need your help and support.

For over 25 years I have been active in the public service arena as Fire Chief in the Town of Rumford, and I have a track record that I am proud of in various sectors of public interest.

Environmentally, I helped implement gas and oil spill prevention and control, and have served as Chairman of the Oxford County Emergency Planning Commission for Hazardous Materials.

In the industry and labor sectors, I have been working closely with several organizations and businesses in order to promote better and safer working conditions.

As in the past I pledge to be available to my constituents to the best of my ability, to hear their needs and to be open to their suggestions and/or criticisms. Plain talk, common sense and a deep rooted love for our area I can promise.

My ideals and convictions could be summed up by "I Care."

If you are an Independent Voter and share my concerns and beliefs, I strongly urge you to register as a Democrat so as to support my bid on Tuesday, June 12th.

Sidney and Cynthia Scott, Julie, Zack and Nicole spent the weekend at camp in Stratton.

Ivan and Ann Proctor and Ivan, Jr. were at their trailer in Stratton for the weekend.

Granddaughter, Michelle Murch came Saturday night to spend the rest of the weekend with them.

The Memorial weekend campers at Cathedral Pines in Stratton/Eustis were: Vince and Beverly Stevens, Stacey and Darcy; Lena Dean; Vance and Connie Bacon; Kenneth Bacon, Christy Bartlett and Donnie; Clyde and Sylvia Knights; Vernon and Miriam Inman; Marshall and Susan Inman, Todd and Tony; Walter and Kim Inman, Vernie and Walter, Jr. We were sure lucky to have such beautiful weather for camping.

Moose and Canadian geese were plentiful to see. Some of the younger ones even went swimming! Carmen Hadley and Edith Lang spent the weekend in Stratton visiting the campers.

There will be a meeting of the Congregation of the Universalist Church on June 6 at 7 p.m. at the Church.

The Eleanor B. Forbes Goodwill Group will meet at Lettie Brooks' farm on June 12 at 9 a.m. for the annual fair party.

There will be a dinner at noon with Avis Steinhorn assisting Lettie as hostesses. The fair boughs will be collected on Monday, June 11 and anyone wishing to help are invited to do so.

What a windy wet morning this is as I sit down to write. The weekend was such a lovely one though that we can't complain too bad. The first weekend that was good for a long time so we made the most of it. It gave Russell a chance to do some of the gardening that he has wanted to do. At least, he has the garden rototilled and some planted. If you are riding by and see strange plants growing don't be surprised. He is planting vegetables that we have never planted before and he is making use of every spot to do this in, even in among the flowers. Japanese mustard off to a dance at Locke Mills with the knowledge that they would be with the tops in the cold frame that he cut the tops for me to use before transplanting them but no harm done. They are thriving well and more leaves growing well. It will be fun to see what happens with the different things he is planting this year.

Peggy and I did up the memorial boxes we wanted last Wednesday. She got ahead of me and did most of them but I was busy in the kitchen and couldn't drop what I was doing. However, went out as soon as I could and helped finish up. Was over to see Dr. Jealous on Thursday and got my arches fixed so they didn't hurt for most an hour but didn't stay in place and it hurts when one's arches give way.

In the afternoon Peggy and I went to put out the memorial boxes we had fixed. We decorated for some of the Whitman graves that I do as well as our family members who have gone on before us. I like to see the graves decorated showing that someone cares and remembers. Friday, Peggy and Tom went to Togus for him to check in there where he is now in Maine. They made a day of it so Russell and I went to town to do errands and get groceries as well as go to Pikes Hill Cemetery for me to decorate my husband's grave. Always put something on Carrie Herrick's grave too as they were so nice to us as neighbors and my family lived with her husband Virgil for several years until he passed away also. They were very nice folks.

In the evening on Friday, Tom and Peggy came down and we played cards, 65 was the game and Russell and Peggy beat Tom and I, but what fun.

ROBERTA WHITMAN

Roberta L. Whitman, 73, formerly of West Paris, died Tuesday, May 29, 1990 at Rumford Community Hospital. She was born at Gorham, N.H., March 16, 1917, the daughter of Charles and Hazel Toothaker Stetson. She received her education in West Paris schools, and graduated from West Paris High School with the class of 1935.

She married Erion Whitman on Oct. 16, 1935; he died July 2, 1988.

Mrs. Whitman was a housewife, and a 50-year member of the West Paris Grange.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Helen Pepin of West Paris; a son, William Whitman of New Gloucester; four sisters, Mrs. Joyce Giddings of Freeport, Mrs. Janice Cray of Freeport, Merian Stetson of Freeport, and Mrs. Doris Warren of Waterville; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

CLYDE E. PELKEY
 Clyde E. Pelkey, 93 of West Paris, died Tuesday, May 29, 1990 at Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway.

He was born at Carlton County, New Brunswick, Feb. 23, 1907, the son of Isaac Pelkey and Lilly Pelkey. He was an inspector at General Electric in Lynn, Mass., for many years, and lived in West Paris for three years, coming from Summer.

He married Edna Nichols on Feb. 20, 1954; she died in 1985.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Charles Fenton of Plymouth, N.H.; a son, Al Fisher of Saugus, Mass.; four brothers, Delmont Pelkey of St. Andrews, New Brunswick, Vernon Pelkey of Woodstock, New Brunswick, Oregon Pelkey of Oakville, Ontario, and Lawrence Pelkey of Blenheim, Ontario; a sister, Hope Pelkey McPhee of St. Andrews, New Brunswick; and four grandchildren.

GUY M. PARKER, JR.
 Guy M. Parker, Jr., 65, of 36 Sparrow Bush Lane, Milford, Conn., died Friday, June 1, 1990 at Connecticut Hospital, Branford, Conn.

He was born Aug. 26, 1924, in Lovell, the son of Guy M. and Vera Butters Parker of West Paris. He was married to Marilyn A. Mace Parker.

Mr. Parker lived many years in Milford, Conn. He worked at Tech Illustrators for Gas Equipment and Engineering of Milford for 10 years, retiring in 1968.

He was a member of the Milford DAV and Woodmont United Church of Christ Congregational.

In addition to his wife and parents he is survived by three sons, Robert D. Parker of Dennis, Mass., Kim B. Parker of West Haven, Conn., and Mitchell G. Parker of Milford, Conn.; four daughters, Cynthia Dimatteo of Lexington, Mass., Nancy Fausser of Lynchburg, Va., Rhonda Lichenstein of South Portland and Vicki Farrell, of Waterbury, Conn.; and seven grandchildren.

Friends are invited to attend a memorial service Saturday, June 9, at 11 a.m. at the Bethel United Methodist Church. Interment will be at the convenience of the family. Memorials can be made to Connecticut Hospital, 61 Burban Drive, Branford, Conn.

Births

Cheri and David Thurston of Clark Street, Bethel are announcing the birth of Parker Augustus Thurston on May 16 at Maine Medical Center, Portland. He weighed 8 lbs, 8 oz and is 22" long. Parker joins a brother, Matthew, 13 years old, and is a grandson of Raymond and Beverly Fecteau, Auburn and Mike and Connie Thurston of Bethel. Great-grandmother is Verna Tame of Auburn.

Robert and Robin Gundersen of Bethel are pleased to announce the arrival of twins, Alex and Andrew, born on May 21, 1990, Alex at 6:06 a.m. and Andrew at 6:07 a.m. at Stephens Memorial Hospital. Alex weighed 5 lbs, 5 oz, and Andrew weighed 5 lbs, 12 oz.

Maternal grandparents are Gayland and Mary Dooen of Bethel.

Paternal grandparents are Sidney and Beverly Gundersen of Greensboro, N.C. Alex and Andrew join a sister Erica, 7 years old.

THOUGHTS FROM THE Pastor's Study

The Bethel Area Clergy Association, with the help of pastors of surrounding churches, brings you these meditations. Not based on any set theme, they will be individual for each pastor. It is hoped you will find in these words, comfort and help for your daily life.

The spring blossoms are gone or are fading away, and now the blossoms of summer are beginning to appear. Beauty in nature is ever with us. When we see in nature's beauty what these will bring forth. Like the blossoms of the fruit trees, now falling away, soon if we look close we will see the small fruit begin to form. Hopefully by harvest time we will see an abundance of fruit.

A human life can also bloom beautifully when our deeds are tempered by kindness and love, and the more beautiful our blossoms, the more abundant the fruits of our harvest will be.

In chapter 15 of the Gospel of St. John, we find Christ's parable of the vine and the husbandman.

Verses 1 reads, "I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman." It then continues on to say that the Father will cut off all branches that do not bear fruit, but to those that bear fruit He will care for, that they might bear more fruit.

If we continue to read, we find that the branches He refers to are us.

If you have noticed a pine tree in the forest, as the tree grows older those branches that are closer to the ground die and eventually partly break off. They leave the shorter pieces of limb still attached to the tree, but it is dead.

three full-time physical education teachers at Telstar spend half their time in the lower grades.

Telstar principals Ted Davis and Bruce Bell argued against this move, largely because of its scheduling consequences, and Craig warned the board that there would be other objections to it from parents and teachers.

But with no further funds to spend on another hiring another physical education teacher, the directors opted to go ahead with the transfer.

But for approximately two dozen parents and teachers who attended Thursday's board meeting, budget matters were secondary.

They had come out to express their support for Elementary Guidance Counselor Lynn Boschetti, whose contract Craig has decided not to renew.

Their support was second in letters. Individual directors spent nearly 30 minutes reading aloud from letters praising the counselor's professionalism and effectiveness, and questioning the motives for the administration's decision not to renew her contract.

Boschetti was accompanied to the meeting by Telstar Educators Association representative John Applin.

Neither addressed the directors, but in a letter to the board, Boschetti strongly challenged the manner in which the administration had handled her contract.

She turned the contents of her personnel file "negative, horrible input," saying it was composed of misinformation, misperceptions, inaccuracies, and information taken out of context.

Boschetti divides her time among the Crescent Park and Ethel Bissbee schools and Chapter 1 pupils. This is her second year in the district, and, since she is still on a probationary contract, the decision on contract renewal or termination is in the hands of the superintendent, not the board.

But a number of directors, especially those from Bethel, were clearly sympathetic to her case and wanted the matter aired, either in public or in executive session.

Craig, however, warned the board that further public discussion could lead to serious legal problems. He suggested the matter be tabled until the next regular board meeting, to allow the board to get legal counsel before taking it up.

The board agreed.

In other action Thursday, the board approved the appointment of Francis Boynton as the new principal at Woodstock elementary school. Boynton is currently principal at the Steuben Elementary School in Steuben, Maine. Before assuming that position, in 1988, he taught for 14 years in Millinocket. He is a graduate of the University of Maine at Farmington and holds a Master of Education degree in Educational Administration.

Boynton's salary for the coming school year will be $37,433 plus benefits. Directors Merton Brown, Cheryl Eliot, Jeri Greenwell and Stan Howe, all of Bethel, and Ray Harrington of Greenwood voted against the salary figure.

In other personnel action Thursday, the board approved the appointment of Debra Piccirillo, Wayne Howe, Linda Davis and William Caddigan as 8th grade team leaders at Telstar Middle School (stipend, $125 each); of James Lunney as 7th grade team leader ($500) and Thomas Riley as 8th grade team leader ($500).

"The most important issue recently," Faulkner said, "has been the sewer issue. I think ultimately the way to fund the problem was finally resolved properly, the way I thought it should be done. But it took two meetings to do that."

Faulkner said he realizes there are limits to the powers of the selectmen, but, he said, "I think the townspeople are asked to decide too many issues."

"It might be symptomatic of a lack of leadership or a lack of courage," he said. "The selectmen are elected to make a decision. In too many cases, they just throw the issue back to the people."

For example, he said, "the skateboard issue—it's just not that difficult a problem to solve."

One of the most important issues facing the town, Faulkner said, is that "there has to be a better relationship between the town office and businesses. The has to be some effort to bring businesses into town so that when kids in the area graduate they don't have to leave the area to get a job."

Faulkner said he is running for the selectman's seat because he thinks it's time to make some changes. "There has to be a whole different attitude on the board," he said. "I'm not suggesting that anybody on the board has not tried to do their best, but I'm not sure the best has always been done."

"The question voters need to ask themselves is: Are they satisfied with the job that's been done or do they think they said.

Hansen said he is running for selectman because he loves Bethel. "And I have three children growing up here. I want to see the quality of life preserved and, where possible, improved upon."

Also, he said, "I think I can do a good job. I care."

Arjan A. Jodrey, the sole incumbent candidate running for the Board of Selectmen, is a 16-year veteran of the seat.

He says the town has come a long way from the days when records were stored in shoeboxes on the back shelves at the Town Office.

Jodrey, who is currently chairman of the selectmen, is a native of Bethel. He lives with his wife Eleanor on Vernon Street. The couple has two grown children, a son and a daughter.

Jodrey is a maintenance supervisor with the Portland Pipeline, where he has worked for over 30 years.

Jodrey said he is running for another three-year term because, citing the upcoming sewer line construction, "It's just getting so now we are doing something that's really good."

However, he says, "It's not just the sewer problem. It's drainage, and roads. I think there has not been enough emphasis put on infrastructure. I think the next two to three years are going to be real crucial. It's critical that we do it properly. No more patch, patch, patch."

Norman A. Putnam, 67, lives on Main Street with his wife Joan. The couple has four children, all grown.

Putnam moved to Bethel from Scituate, Mass., in 1980. An engineer, he retired as vice president of applications and product development from Wolverine Corp. of Merrimack, Mass. He also retired as a Lt. Col. from the Army Reserve Corp. of Engineers, where he gained experience in drainage and in road building.

Putnam says he served in the early 1970's as president of the Scituate recycling corporation.

In Bethel, Putnam serves on the sewer study committee. He says from his experience in drainage, he sees a problem that's going to come up with the wastewater treatment ordinance being formulated for Bethel.

"The people on Broad Street who have lots of water in their cellars" that will no longer be allowed to be pumped into the sewer lines, where are they going to put it, he asks.

The sewer problems in Bethel are an ongoing issue in which I'm very much interested, Putnam says.

Also, he says, he would like to get into the solid waste issue now. "Those two issues right now are the major ones facing the town."

Putnam said he is running for the selectman's seat because he has always believed that "when you live in a town you should contribute to it, use your time and talents to help it. That's what I've done over the years."

Candidates for school director are: John K. Brown

John K. Brown, 61, a school board director for about 20 years, is seeking a return to that position.

Brown, a native of Bethel and former editor of the Bethel Citizen, has served the school board for four years as its chairman, five years as vice chairman and has served on the personnel, negotiations and policy committees.

Brown says schools have to be adequately financed, of course, and salaries have to be competitive to keep from losing good people.

quately financed, of course, and salaries have to be competitive to keep from losing good people.

However, he says he doesn't think the state is going to increase its funding. "There's no easy solution that I can see," he says, other than doing just what the board did this year, hold the line on the total gross budget, which Brown points out was only 6.5 percent above last year.

The problem, he explains, is the big area property valuation increases brought the towns less state money for schools.

Brown said he is running for another term because "it's interesting and it is political. I just enjoy that kind of parliamentary work."

Linda M. Saunders

Linda M. Saunders, 36, is also running for a three-year term on the school board of directors.

Saunders, who lives with her husband Robert and their 15-year old daughter on Lower Main Street, said she has lived in Bethel for seven years. She added that she used to summer in Bethel with her father, who was part of NTL.

Saunders substitutes as a teacher in the school district, volunteers at school and has worked on community and town committees.

Previously, she said, she assisted her husband when he was general manager at Hanover Dowel Company.

Saunders says that when the school budget committee was looking at where to cut, she "was in favor of the foreign language department staying the way it is ... I think the numbers substantiate that we do need two fulltime teachers."

Though Saunders says she thinks a good school budget is necessary, she's "not sure it's all being spent where it might be."

"I would like to see the students taking responsibility for such things as supplying their own paper, for example, and of coming to class prepared. Putting more responsibility on students for their education," she believes, will not only save the school money but will help build the student's self-esteem.

Saunders said she is running because she is concerned about education and believes some changes need to be made. "I grew up in education," she said. "I came from a family of educators ... I think this is one way I can affect education locally."

Rebecca C. Lawrence

A third candidate for one of the two seats on the school board, Rebecca C. Lawrence, was not available for an interview early this week.

We regret we were unable to reach her for her comments.

Twitcheil appointed to fuel tax evasion committee

President of the Senate Charles P. Pray recently announced that he had appointed Senator R. Donald Twitcheil to the Motor Fuel Tax Evasion Committee. The Motor Fuel Tax Evasion Committee was established in April of this year to review the fiscal impact caused by individuals and businesses who evade paying the motor fuel tax and other applicable user fees.

"As chair of the Joint Standing Committee on Transportation, Senator Twitcheil will bring considerable expertise to the work of this commission," said President Pray.

Rebel softball team heads for semi-finals

The Telstar High School softball team began the Western Maine Class C playoff season in intimidating fashion Tuesday, blowing by Old Orchard Beach 23-3. Playing on their home field, the third seeded Rebels jumped out to a 7-2 second inning lead over the sixth-seeded Gulls, then never looked back.

The visitors were unable to solve Stacy Kangas's pitching, and when they did tag the ball they seldom managed to penetrate the tight Rebel defense, anchored by shortstop Angie Jordan and third baseman Angie Hebert.

In the home half of innings, the Rebels combined steady hitting with aggressive bunting and base running to pile up the runs.

In the third inning, with the Rebels leading 11-2 and the bases loaded, catcher Dani Bernier put things out of reach for good by blasting a three-run, opposite-field triple, then scoring herself on a wild pitch.

On Saturday, in semi-final action, the Rebels will take on either Jay (at home) or Hall-Dale (away).

The Rebels earned their playoff berth by piling up a solid 11-5 record. That record is especially impressive since all five losses were to Class B schools (by a total of eight runs), and three of the losses were in the first four games of the year.

At the beginning of the season, Coach Jim Lunney said he expected his young squad might start slowly, but he felt they could be a strong contender by the time playoffs rolled around.

The team's success is built around strong defense and pitching, especially the hurling of freshman Stacy Kangas, who Lunney considers already to be the best pitcher in the Mountain Valley Conference.

If there a possible weakness, Lunney said, it's hitting, which has been spotty throughout the season. But Kangas and Mary-Beth Hannon have hit just under 400, and in the last half of the season Kristen Cushman blistered the ball for an average of nearly .500.

Bridge Club held final game of season May 20

The Round Robin Bridge Club held their final game of the season on Sunday, May 20, at the Town and Country in Shelburne, N.H.

It proved to be the most competitive season ever with barely 15,000 points difference from top to bottom score against the usual variation of 35,000 to 40,000 points. There were 32 players in the tournament which started last October.

The top 10 players were Bob Crane, Richard Grover, Rita Davis, Dutch Dresser, Verna Thayer, Dana Douglass, Sue Crane, Norma Jodrey, Lee Barth and Evelyn Kimball.

Individual high scorer was Bob Crane and individual low score was shared by Wendie Gray and Millie Thomas. Middle of the road (average score), was Wendie Gray while middle of the road 16th person was Barbara Lucas. The glad you came award was given to June Greig.

The 21st tournament of Round Robin will start in the fall.
